Eyebrowless Vamps
Must Grow New Ones

If you look at 'em you'll discover that some Janesville girls have a pair of eyebrows after the fashion of the clown you used to follow along Mil. Blvd. when you were a kid on circus days. Some of them, the dear young things we mean, you'll discover have no eyebrows at all.

Aside from a pained expression of their upper facial extremity, you'll discover—if you have the nerve to press the question—that the d. v. t. are also mentally worried.

Bald spots where God placed eyebrows are passe. This to the great chagrin of quite a number of Janesville misses. The fashion's gone out. So have the eyebrows for that matter—after painstaking and many a weariest periodical manipulation of a pair of tweezers.

Some of the girls are quite alarmed. It's not alone from the fact that baldness below the temple is considered, but hand in hand come press dispatches.

PHONE CO. GRANTED
25 CENT INCREASE

The Rock County Farmers' Telephone company has won its fight for a rate increase of 25 cents per month. The increase, which makes the monthly cost of service $1.75, affects 326 subscribers in six townships adjacent to Janesville.

In granting authority for the increase, the railroad commission pointed out that as the fixed charges and operating expenses of the company under present conditions requires a rental of $2.00 per year from each subscriber, its request to increase to $2.25 per year is reasonable.

In its detailed income sheet issued a month ago the company reported a net loss of $2,165 for 1919. Assets of the company totaled $19,316, Dec. 31, 1919.

from New York that a number of eastern girls who turned the trick are blind as the result.

One of Janesville's aforementioned d. v. t. thought something of that sort was on her program for three days after she had placed a thale on her eye-brow jerking, her optics were swollen closed. After this condition subsided she decorated with a hair-line of burnt cork. She looked like one of those crouching plaster or papier-mache baring girls you buy in the shops—their eyebrows are a swift stroke of an artist's brush.

The predicament of the eyebrowless girl is fittingly paralleled by the local girl who shaved hers so as to permit but a third access to remain on either side of her nose. They were short, sprouty, little dickies like something the clown would expose.

Now her eyebrows are twice as long on the parts previously shaved.

FORWARD, JANESVILLE!

To make Janesville a better place in which to live and in which to do business, the Gazette pledges itself to work for and support these things:

Housing survey to discourage exorbitant rentals; encouragement of building more houses; appraisal of property values so that rent profiteers may be made to pay the increased amount of taxes.

Open roads in the country 365 days of the year; better roads generally; and support of the road building plans; better streets and more paved streets in the city.

A market pavilion in the city which may also be used for many other purposes by farmers and livestock producers.

A community building to be used for auditorium, sport events, meetings, rest rooms, and also as a fitting memorial for soldiers.

Open the churches seven days a week and stop economic waste in room and time. Make classrooms meeting places for the young, and provide gymnasium facilities.

Build a real home for the girls who come here to work.

Open the fair grounds this year as a recreation park with tennis courts and other play apparatus. Establish parks and playgrounds.

Better the street car service as population increases.

This day in 1799, there was completed the election of George Washington as president of the United States.

THE MENACE OF UNDER-PRODUCTION.

No matter where you go in Wisconsin, in the cities or in the lesser towns of the counties, there is the same statement from those who have any knowledge of conditions, that farming will be a hard proposition this year. "We cannot pay $90 or $100 a month for farm labor." "We will be compelled to raise less and do less work because no farm help is available." This is the burden of the talk. The big city sneers at the farmer. He is still the "kick" with electric lights and an automobile and money in the bank, or cash buried in the crock in the yard, in the mind of the resident of the metropolitan center, who places the blame for the high cost of living largely to the greed of the farmer.

Of course the farmer has nothing to do with market prices. He never fixed a price. When he has something to sell in the market, he is obliged to ask the price or follow the published quotations, and he may sell or not, at the price quoted. That is his one privilege. Generally he is without knowledge of who is the price-maker. But he knows that supply and demand do make up a considerable element in this price establishment.

And the industrial situation will be worse than it is now and living costs will be higher, if the farmer is not able to secure labor necessary to care for the crops of 1920. It is a positive menace. Once the farmer is slack in production, the world begins to pay. The situation has been bad, yet thought it was as acute as possible during the war—but at this moment it is dark and gloomy for food crops this year. The farm bureau now being organized has hoped to solve the problem at least in part, and it seems perfectly plain that if there is not the closest cooperation of all interests a great disaster in food shortage will come upon us.

DODGING THE PAVING ISSUE.

Was the council afraid of the effect a decision on the paving question would have on the election today, that the aldermen excused the failure on the ground of so much other business to care for? Whether it is so or not, the members allowed themselves to be open to the charge, especially the five who are candidates for re-election. "The biggest thing and the most vitally paramount place of business was the paving question. Nothing else could be so important. That the council had no intention of carrying out its officially advertised plan to hear the paving matter was indicated by the cool announcement made by the mayor at the opening of the meeting. It was as cut and dried as a piece of jerked beef. Janesville is having an election today and every ward is having its contest. When the election is over whatever action is taken on paving cannot make or lose a vote. It may be good politics, but it savors of cowardice, deceit and bad faith with the people.

NOT A CHANCE IN DELAWARE.

Delaware is to have another chance at woman suffrage, but there is little hope that the state will ratify the act. For many years, this next to the smallest state in the union has been notoriously a "rotten borough." The scandals of "Gas" Adickes have not passed entirely from memory. Delaware has archaic laws, receives much revenue from granting charters to corporations which are more often than not, designed to rob the public through wild cat or fraudulent stock issues. If the liquor interests were to select a state which would be easily handled, Delaware would be one of the first chosen. The chief opponents of suffrage are whiskey in the north, and in the south it is the politician who does not care to have a new element injected into a situation which he so well knows how to handle, and with his old methods is able to keep the states safe for the democrats. It is not at all likely that Delaware will change its attitude of opposition to the suffrage amendment, but the reason why it assumes that attitude ought to be clearly defined.

PAPER SHORTAGE GROWS SHORTER.

The appearance of the Chicago Tribune, Monday, in 14-page form, was one of the warnings to the public that the paper shortage is growing more and more acute. Many of the larger papers in the bigger cities have cut the size and the news is condensed into the narrowest possible space. Consolidation of newspapers goes on constantly. One city after another with two or more papers have joined interests and reduced paper consumption thereby. One large, strong daily to a city is the general rule. When it is realized that Chicago, with all of its millions has but two morning papers, the saving of newspaper there is considerable. Rock Island has just consolidated the Argus and the Union and has only one paper now. There is little complaint as to the price of newspaper, though it is 500 percent above what it was four years ago. What worries the newspapers is the chilling fact that there is no paper to be had. Dozens of smaller papers have suspended entirely. And there seems to be no relief in sight. Twenty-two hundred papers have gone out of business in a year.

TOO MUCH POTTERY.

Plume is sick of D'Annunzio, according to the cables. His soldiers are swashbucklers and thieves, and the morals of his army are noticeable because there are none. It would seem that this opera bouffe has about played out its season and if there is any salt at all in

You can rig up a house with all manner of things. The prayer rugs of sultans and the pelouses and kings. You can hang on its walls the old tapestries rare. Which some dead Egyptian once treasured with care.

But though costly and gorgeous its furnishings are, It must have, to be homelike, an old cookie jar.

There are just a few things that a home must possess,

Despite all your money and all your success—

A few good old books which some loved one had read.

And then in the pantry, not shoved back too far

For the hungry to get to, that old cookie jar.

Let the carpets be made of the richest velvet.

And the chairs only those which great wealth can procure.

Rent Rebellion

Washington, D. C.

New York, April 6.—New York is on the verge of a rent rebellion. At least, such is the current report. Whispers of a rent strike are being spread in the city. Hints of this catastrophe are almost as numerous as the tenants recently evicted from the central business district.

the league of nations, that it should act in this case.

Italy has been other hopelessly weak or has accepted the action of the half-crazy poet as a part of the plan to take over Fiume, whether the other nations would permit or not.

For several reasons, one of which is that we are not interested, we never ask a man, "Who is your choice for president?" But we hear the question asked frequently, and thus far the only reply we have heard is "Hoover."

—B. L. T. in Chicago Tribune.

It Mr. B. L. T. is not interested in a president of his country he should go to a school for Americanization along with other foreigners and persons who do not care what happens to the American government.

Just to show they had the money to spend, the management of Gen. Wood's campaign tour through Illinois provided a special train of six Pullmans and 37 people to accompany the general, all expenses paid.

It may be said to the credit of the general that he was very wrathful. It would look as though one of the troubles of the general was in the fool management he has. Here in Wisconsin is another display of about the same kind.

One thing about the bad weather just now, we know it will not last long, and in a few short weeks Janesville will take its place among the beauty spots of Wisconsin.

Frank Holt's acceptance of the superintendency of the Janesville schools is gratifying and assures the people of an excellent administration of the schools.

Apparently some of the aldermen had cold feet on paying when they faced the fact that the cold, gray dawn of the morning after, was election morn.

Paris thinks Mrs. Wilson wrote the famous note about that republic being militaristic. Can't they tell by the perfume on the paper?

A New York woman says bow-legged men make the best husbands and bald-headed ones the worst. But supposing a man is both?

President Wilson will be close to a fog horn in his summer home. Is there danger of getting the voices mixed?

Foremost as a cure for the radical is to give him a soap box and free voice and let him talk himself to death.

Newberry must have sent his resignation by the Burlington route.

FORTY YEARS AGO.

April 6, 1880.—The new city directory has just been published by William Hogg, Milwaukee. It gives the population of the city at about 18,000, which Mr. Hogg believes to be very near correct. It also contains other valuable information in its two hundred pages, especially of value being the street directory.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

April 6, 1900.—The council met last night and decided unanimously to raise the salary of the city attorney to $900 per year. The frame house which has stood on the corner of Prospect avenue and Wisconsin street, has been purchased by a Fort Atkinson man, who will move it in a few days. The new costly edifice of the St. Mary's church will be built there.

TEN YEARS AGO.

April 6, 1910.—The wets won yesterday in this city by 643 votes. 2,567 votes were cast by the citizens, Harry Maxfield won from Fred Burpee for city attorney. Aldermen were elected. Three hundred people were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Capelle and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Matheson at the Assembly hall last evening.

BOLD BANK YEGG STARTS PANIC KILLS 1, HURTS 3

St. Louis, April 6.—Officials and employees of the Eastern-Taylor bank here were checking over the day's deposits just before the closing hour Monday, when they heard a voice say: "Put up your hands; I'll shoot to kill."

John R. Lannagan, president of the bank, looked up smilingly, thinking someone was joking.

He saw a man, later identified as Frederick C. Smith, entering the bank with a gun in each hand.

A shot that clipped a lock of hair from Lannagan's head, caused the smile to disappear.

Herded into Rear Room.

Lannagan, 12 employees and a half dozen patrons were herded toward a rear room.

"Drop your money in this sack," Smith ordered, as another patron entered. Smith indicated a gunny sack, slung over his shoulder. The would-be depositor obeyed. A passing boy saw the holdup, and gave the alarm. Smith grabbed a bunch of currency, and tossing it into the sack, ran into a movie theater next door.

The money totaled $20,000.

He turned the audience into a riot, as he jumped into the orchestra pit, and started shooting at policemen as they entered the door.

Patrolman Drops Dead.

Terrance McFarland, patrolman, dropped dead from a bullet wound.

William Henry, police sergeant, fell shot in the face.

A bullet through one arm forced Police Sergeant Michael Flavin to seek cover.

Claude Adams, patrolman, went down with a bullet in the abdomen. The wounded policeman fired back as they fell.

When Smith had emptied both guns, he collapsed, his body riddled with shots.

Wife Believes He Was Insane.

The dead bandit was identified as Frederick C. Smith, an electrician, 40, formerly of Dayton, O.

His identity was traced by a draft registration card. According to Mrs. Minnie Smith, the widow, they came to St. Louis about a year ago, after residing in Dayton for 12 years.

Mrs. Smith asserted that her husband suffered congestion of the brain in a railroad accident seven years ago, and that at that time physicians said he would never fully recover. She believes he was mentally unbalanced. She declared that he was always a "model husband."

New Wage Contract for Hard Coal Fields Expected

BILLY WHISKERS BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When Billy, as he walked along the road, thought of dear, patient, little Nanny, as dear Nanny called him, he shook it off in a hurry for the next minute the thought came to him, what if Nanny had given him up as lost and married again? The thought made him mad; and for three or four miles he ran like a steam-engine, snorting with rage as he went, and vowing to himself that if it were so, he could split her new husband open with his long horns, as he had the dogs he had met by the way.

STOMACH GOOD AS NEW, FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Mrs. Hendricks, Bedford Five Months, Was Able to Work in Two Weeks.

"I was sick last winter for five months with stomach and bowel trouble. Could not turn myself in bed without help. I was under the care of four doctors, and they gave me up. Then Mr. Willis, the druggist, persuaded my husband to try a bottle of Milk's Emulsion. I had only taken it two days until I was sitting up in bed and in two weeks I was doing my own work. When I began taking it, I weighed only 70 pounds, now I weigh 130 pounds."—Mrs. Mary Hendricks, 900 Litchfield Road, Owensboro, Ky.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from stomach and bowel troubles, have found relief almost from the first dose of Milk's Emulsion. And it is real, lasting benefit.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all of those griping, colicky, and nervous stomach troubles, and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended by those who are weak and weary, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repelling the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

jumping over her and kissing her nose.

"Two very fine looking kids," thought Billy. "I wonder whose they are."

Then his old heart stood still, for his next thought was: "She has forgotten me, is married again and these are her children."

This thought made him feel sick and faint, and his knees shook under him, so he dropped on the grass with his nose through the rails of the fence, and there he lay for a long while, but he never took his eyes off the three in the pasture.

"I will be here and see if it is so," thought Billy, "and if it is I will go away and never let her know that I came back."

As he looked, old Satan, the minister that had married them, came up to speak to Nanny, and Billy felt his blood beginning to boil, for he thought:

"If she is married to that old widower, and I am afraid she is, for in the grass with the two little kids one of those kids is as black as Satan himself, I can't stand it! I shall stay to make myself known just long enough to kill him."

Soon, however, Satan walked off, as it was getting dark; and the goats began to find cozy places for themselves for the night. But Billy lay still and watched, though he was very thirsty and hungry, not having eaten anything all day, as he had been too anxious to get back to see if Nanny was married again.

He watched her wash the kids' little faces for the night with her soft tongue and give them a good-night kiss on their little noses before they cuddled down to sleep beside her. It made Billy groan with loneliness to see it all, and he lay there broken in spirit and wished he could die, and closed his eyes to shut out the sight.

(Billy is given a pleasant surprise tomorrow.)

Lewis to Adjust Coal Miners' Dissatisfaction

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

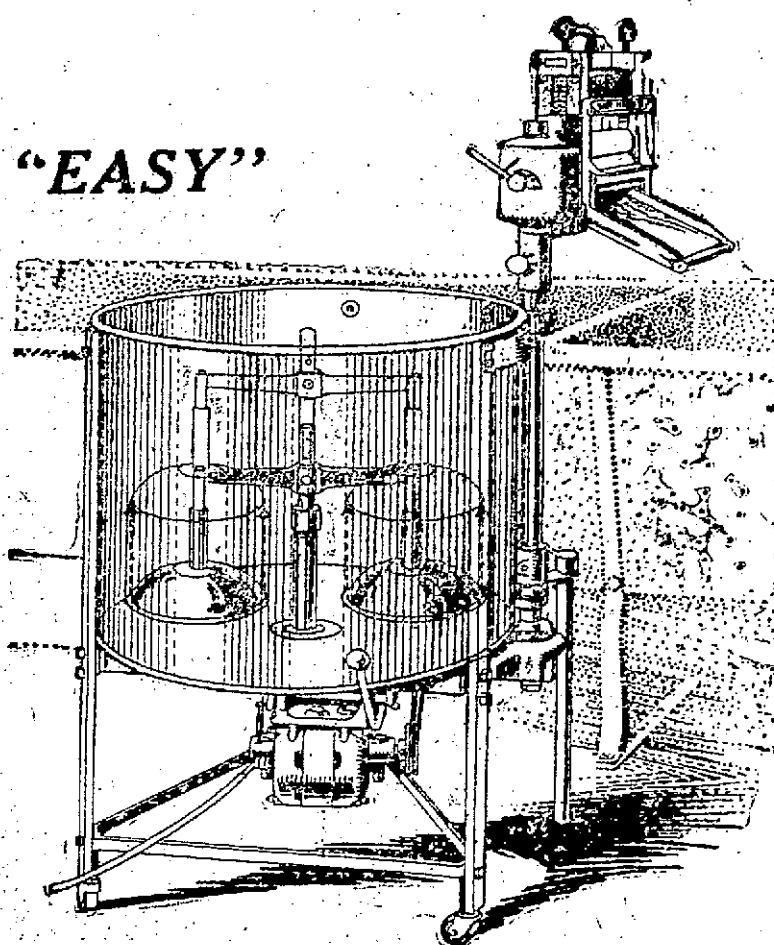

New York, April 6.—The situation in the bituminous coal fields of Kansas, Illinois, and other states brought about by the dissatisfaction of the miners with the new wage contract, "will be satisfactorily adjusted within a few days," John J. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, declared today. As soon as official reports are received from the affected districts, he said, prompt steps will be taken to get the men back to work and carry out the terms of the new agreement.

SECOND FLOOR

During this sale we will offer you NEPONSET Floor Covering at a special price of, square yard 79c

Here is one great sale that should be of interest to every housewife, hotel and storekeeper in Janesville and vicinity. Months ago we made a lucky purchase of hundreds of yards of Neponset Floor Coverings which enables us to offer Neponset at this sale at a price far below the regular selling price.

You are urged to come and see Neponset floor covering; see how it is made; how it resists water and moisture, how flat it lies on the floor without tacking and without curling up at the edges; see the beautiful linoleum patterns it comes in.

Neponset is an improvement on the old fashioned linoleum. Neponset is 100 percent waterproof, splashing water on won't soak in Neponset. It is waterproof from top to bottom.

The cost of linoleum has largely limited its use to the kitchen. One can afford to use Neponset in many other rooms. It is with this in mind that the Neponset patterns have been designed, this one for the living room, that one for the bedroom and another for the kitchen, and so on. The user is absolutely protected by the good old fashioned guarantee of satisfaction, which goes with every yard of Neponset Floor Covering, backed as it is by one of New England's oldest manufacturers.

Be sure and attend this great sale. Bring your friends along. Buy now for present and future requirements—Bring your measurements with you so we can cut and match the goods for your floor.

U. S. TO RESUME TRADE WITH SOVIET

Individuals Can Carry on Commerce at Their Own Risk.

(By DAVID LAWRENCE.)
(Copyright 1920 By Gazette.)

Washington, April 6.—Trade relations between the United States and the people of Russia, whether the latter are under the jurisdiction of the soviet or any other faction, will shortly be resumed.

The United States government has been waiting an answer from the allies as to the course the other nations would pursue, but the suggestions and counter-suggestions have thus far yielded no concrete understanding. It is the intention of our government, if an answer is not forthcoming soon, to advise American citizens to go ahead irrespective of the action of the other powers.

All Can Trade at Own Risk.

Any American would be able to trade with Russia at his own risk. This means that diplomatic protection in the event of losses or damages to the individual who may be present though later on when a government in Russia is finally recognized, the department of state would be responsible for any new government of the transactions or claims pending against its possessions.

Soviet Not Recognized.

With respect to recognition of the soviet there is as yet no sign of any change of policy and it is extremely unlikely that this presidential year, the democratic administration would lay itself open to attack as sympathetic with the bolshevik by taking the lead in extending recognition.

On the other hand if the allies decide upon such a policy, the United States would not stand aloof, but would join in the policy of the associated powers.

Of one thing the public may rest assured. Information here would seem to indicate that under no circumstances will the allies agree to any recognition of the soviet unless there is a definite renunciation of any policy of international revolution or propaganda looking toward that end.

While officials are inclined to look upon the matter of the soviet regime as a form of government set up by Russians for Russia, they are firmly set against the continuance of any external activity or missionary work for soviet methods. The deportation of Ludwig Martens, the self-styled "ambassador" of the soviet, is a much warning against any future attempt to introduce revolutionary propaganda in the United States as it is a punishment for Martens.

Stand on International Law.

Our government officials deem themselves to be acting on the solid ground of international law and understanding in refusing to recognize any government one of whose aims is the overthrow of forms of government unlike its own. The department of state claims that revolutionary propaganda is inspired by the soviet and that the task of Martens was to spread soviet doctrines in the United States. Of course there is no denying the probability that trade relations with Russia will tend to emphasize sooner or later the political aspects of the problem and that a decision of some kind will become necessary. On the other hand, it is thought possible that with the return of trade, the Russian people themselves will be better able to understand the viewpoint of the outside world toward political recognition and will eventually compel those who assume to govern Russia to change their tactics toward other nations.

Question Russian Embassy.

Incidentally, an interesting question has just been raised concerning the occupancy of the Russian embassy building in Washington. A rumor has been current for several days that the department of state had ordered out the present occupants of the building—namely Mr. Bailett and others who came here as the representatives of the Kerensky government. But there is no truth in the rumor. Officials of the department tell the writer that the United States government has no jurisdiction over the embassy building. Our government does not recognize the Kerensky men any more than it does the Martens group. But as for the building, possession is nine points of the law, and the government of the United States enters into diplomatic relations with a government in Russia from whom instructions can be received concerning the occupancy of the building, no action will be taken against present tenants.

Again and again the department of state has been confronted with this problem, particularly with respect to Mexico. The Carranza faction occupied the Mexican embassy for many months prior to formal recognition of the Carranza government. Embassy buildings are the property of foreign governments and the rule which has been followed here is to refrain from interference with the last occupants of a legation or embassy until a new government is formally recognized and arrangements for diplomatic representation.

6-TON TANKS FOR NATIONAL GUARD UNIT ARE ORDERED

Tight tanks for Janesville's new national guard outfit have been ordered from the war department according to word received by Mayor David Atwood, Madison. He said the requisition was sent by wire, Saturday.

Tanks ordered for the company are of the type used by the American army in the recent war. Each weighs six tons. They are similar in size and shape to the war-scarred one which paraded city streets here during the Victory loan campaign.

Although Capt. Feagin states it is proposed that the company have 23 tanks eventually, it is believed doubtful whether this number will be included in the initial shipment.

MILK PRODUCERS TO MEET THURSDAY

Special meeting of the Milk Producers' association of Rock county will be held at the city hall at 8 o'clock Thursday night. C. J. Cooper, Sycamore, Ill., one of the men who was indicted for aiding the farmers to get higher prices for their milk, will be the principal speaker. The subject of discussion will be the producers' association and the farm bureau.

REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

Gov. Calvin Coolidge.

Since his recent re-election as governor of Massachusetts by an overwhelming majority on a law and order platform, Calvin Coolidge has been put forward by his friends as a man of presidential caliber who, if nominated by the Republicans, would sweep the country in next November's elections.

Coolidge is 49 years old and was in the Massachusetts legislature before his elevation to the governorship. He is a lawyer by profession. Coolidge recently set forth some of his ideas on public questions in the following terse language:

"Do the day's work."
"The public is tired of strikes, and in the long run, the wishes of the public prevail."
"Both capital and labor owe a duty to the public, and the public will resent violations of that duty."

"Educate those coming into your country as a means of treating with the situation."
"Foreigners who break our laws should be punished here and then deported. Simply deporting is a joke. If they desire they can come back. If punished they won't want to."

"Athens dangerous to our institutions should be deported even if not guilty of breaking our laws."
"Our first duty—to get the new arrival a job and make him a producer; then educate him before he is gathered in by the bolshevik."
"Capital and labor are entitled to fair return and no more."
"Not what the worker takes home in his pay envelope, but what his wife can put in the market basket with it, is what counts."

"If people would only work the hours they are supposed to, there wouldn't be much trouble; most of them don't."

BLIZZARD IN SOUTH HURTS EARLY CROPS, FRUITS, VEGETABLES

A dollar and even more, it is predicted, will be the ruling price for the first strawberries to appear on the market here. The exorbitant price will be the result of the blizzard which hit the midwestern and southern states Saturday and Sunday. Sources of early spring produce—southern Texas, Louisiana and Florida—suffered greatly. Apples, cherries, plums and early field and garden fruits suffered loss to the extent of $5,000,000 in the Missouri valley according to wire reports today.

CUTTS' CORNERS

Cutts Corners, April 6.—Three new pupils, the Rice children, have entered the spring term of school. Gladys Yale and Telda Newmann from Milton Junction high school visited the Paul school last week. Gwendolyn Paul is sick and out of Whitewater.

BIG LAND BOOM SWEEPING COUNTY

Real Estate Sells Fast in Janesville and Other Cities As Well As in All Townships.

An unprecedented boom in real estate throughout the county causing the filing of an average of 60 warranty deeds a day in the office of the register of deeds at the court house here has struck not only Janesville, Beloit and the smaller towns but the farms as well.

Evansville in the last month or so has witnessed a boom in the buying and selling of dwellings and lots that had never been dreamed. Inquiry reveals that conditions of inability for the farmers to get help, high prices for supplies and small returns on their labor, have caused the more prosperous farmers to sell their farms and retire to that town.

Farms sell fast. Anywhere from $150 to $250 and in some cases $300 has been realized by the seller. How long this will continue appears to be a question among experts on farm lands who are declaring that at $300 it is almost impossible for a farmer to make a profit out of the land.

Several farm sales have been made within the past month amounting to more than $25,000. One place hit as high as $50,000; another sold for $31,500.

No Stop Here

Building booms and speculation in real estate here hit both Janesville and Beloit particularly hard. The Gateway city is awaiting the commencement of building operations for a $1,000,000 addition to the plant of Fairbanks-Morse company which has reacted upon the real estate market there. Notwithstanding the halt in construction in Janesville, the Tractor company, transfers continue to be made without a sign of stopping.

Real estate men are of the opinion there will be no drop witnessed. Rather they believe that business in houses and lots will increase. Talk of present high prices for property is discounted in most instances as being in accord with the present value of the dollar, which will drop when the dollar value does.

SCRUB BULL IS ON RUN IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

West Bend—Washington county with its five active cow testing associations and the sixth in the process of organization, has the scrub bull on the run. The West Bend Richfield association has been free from the evil of scrub sires, ranking 100 percent in respect to pure-bred at the head of their herds. For the month of February the four highest herds in far production reported by association testers in Wisconsin were located in Washington county.

The report shows there were 27 cases of measles; small pox, 23; scarlet fever, 21; chicken pox, 14; mumps, 2; diphtheria, 2; scarlet and diphtheria, 1.

Two public schools and 30 homes were fumigated while 37 people were examined for trace of communicable disease. Inspections numbered 27, calls to detention hospital, 16, and school calls, 9.

Three hundred and ninety children were examined for vaccination. Dr. Welch's report continues. Forty-two notices and letters were sent out by him.

U. S. Business Men Give Aid to Sick in Vienna

(By Associated Press.)

New York, April 6.—A gift of 3,000,000 crowns by American businessmen has been forwarded to the mayor of Vienna, and the directors there of the American convalescent home for sick and undernourished children of Vienna, it was announced today.

WOMAN SEEKS TO BE FREE OF MAN WHO MADE HER CUT WOOD

How a 15-year-old girl was forced by a man married, to go with him into the north woods of Michigan and aid him in cutting down trees, sawing wood and peeling bark, is told in papers in a divorce suit filed in circuit court here by Bertha St. Vincent against Frank St. Vincent.

In the documents, Mrs. St. Vincent, who is now 22, says that she was not physically capable of doing any such work, but that when she complained of the strain her husband swore at her, struck, kicked and choked her.

One of the severest winters after their marriage, she says that he kept her in the woods in a small dilapidated shack hardly large enough to house the two of them and practically unfurnished. She declares that he gave her hardly sufficient clothing to keep her warm and was scanty with the food. She charges that during that winter, he earned only enough to live and spent much of the time hunting. Whenever he went out, she says, he would compel her to lock the doors and remain in the shanty until he came back.

When not helping her husband with his strenuous work, she says she was forced to cook in lumber camps or work in towns. Many times her husband went away on drunken sprees and he returned would beat her, she declares.

She says that he deserted her three times before March, 1915, when she was forced by his ill-treatment to leave him.

They were married at Gladstone, Mich., September, 1913. They have no children.
